

SEPTEMBER

INSTALL A RAIN GARDEN

Rain gardens collect and filter rainwater that runs off impervious surfaces like rooftops and driveways. Impervious surfaces lead to increases in runoff and often result in increased flooding. As water travels over impervious surfaces it also picks up pollutants. Polluted stormwater runoff enters our rivers and lakes and is one of the leading threats to water quality. Installing a rain garden is one way you can manage rain water in your own yard!

